Message from Val Executive Director

Val Reinke

It seems we hear a lot about heroes these days. World events have brought the concept of sacrificing one's self for the sake of others back into focus. Not surprisingly, there is camaraderie among heroes; they are drawn to each other during life - and death. Nearly 500 individuals are buried near one another in the veteran's area at Oak Grove. There are an additional 2,000 veterans buried at Oak Grove in other locations.

Over the years we have received many requests from families asking us to consider a special place for veterans who choose to be buried above ground or cremated. Some people have also expressed a desire to be interred with their spouse and family alongside other veterans.

To respond to these requests, and to honor the sacrifices that veterans have made to our country, Oak Grove has introduced the Wall of Honor. This unique area in our garden mausoleum is a wonderful option for veterans who want an alternative to in-ground burial and want to be interred near their families.

We'll be dedicating the Wall of Honor on November 11, which, of course, is Veteran's Day.

Val Reinke
Executive Director

Oak Grove introduces the Wall of Honor

There are close to 10,000 veterans in La Crosse.

Now there is a special section in Oak Grove Cemetery for these heroes and their families. It's called the Wall of Honor, a final resting place that honors the contribution that veterans have made to our country. The Wall of Honor includes niches, for people choosing cremation, and crypts for people who prefer a full body, above ground burial.

For more information, or to schedule a personal appointment to discuss the Wall of Honor, please contact Oak Grove Cemetery at (608) 782-6956, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Wall of Honor Availability

Side-by-side companion niches:
16 pair available

Single Niches: 16 available

Companion Crypts (head-to-toe)
56 available

Single Crypts (may be purchased as side-by-side): 21 available

Contact Oak Grove Cemetery for prices. The price includes crypt or niche, lettering, death date(s), one bronze military branch emblem and placement, government-issued plaque placement on feature wall and maintenance.

Non-veteran family members may be interred close to you in crypts and niches located near by.

Support the Wall of Honor

You can support the Wall of Honor with your financial contribution. Contributions can be general or specific to the following items:

$620 each for the following bronze military branch emblems:

- ★ Army ★ Marines ★ Navy
- ★ Air Force ★ Coast Guard

$1,512 for a bronze plaque reading “Duty, Honor, Country”

Donations designated for general use will be allocated to pay for the lighting of the wall and flag.

Contributions of $500 or more will be recognized by donor plaques located on the Wall of Honor.

A very special thank you to a local individual who generously sponsored the American flag display by supporting the purchase of a flagpole, which will stand at 30 feet in front of the Wall of Honor.

Do you know how to fold the American Flag?

1. Bring the striped half up over the blue field.
2. Then fold it in half again.
3. Bring the lower striped corner to the upper edge forming a triangle.
4. Then fold the upper point in to form another triangle. Continue until the entire length of the flag is folded.
5. When you get near the end - nothing but the blue field showing - tuck the last bit into the other folds to secure it.

Meaning of the 12 Folds in the American Flag

1st - is a symbol of life.

2nd - is a symbol of our belief in the eternal life.

3rd - is made in honor and remembrance of the veteran departing our ranks and who gave a portion of life for the defense of our country to attain peace throughout the world.

4th - represents our weaker nature; for as American citizens trusting in God, it is to Him we turn in times of peace as well as in times of war for His divine guidance.

5th - is a tribute to our country, for in the words of Stephen Decatur, “Our country, in dealing with other countries, may she always be right, but it is still our country, right or wrong.”

6th - is for where our hearts lie. It is with our heart that we pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

7th - is a tribute to our Armed Forces, for it is through the Armed Forces that we protect our country and our flag against all enemies, whether they be found within or without the boundaries of our republic.

8th - is a tribute to the one who entered into the valley of the shadow of death, that we might see the light of day, and to honor our mother, for whom it flies on Mothers Day.

9th - is a tribute to womanhood, for it has been through their faith, love, loyalty and devotion that the character of the men and women who have made this country great have been molded.

10th - is a tribute to father, for he, too, has given his sons and daughters for the defense of our country since he or she was first born.

11th - in the eyes of Hebrew citizens, represents the lower portion of the seal of King David and King Solomon and glorifies, in their eyes, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

12th - in the eyes of a Christian citizen, represents an emblem of eternity and glorifies, in their eyes, God the Father, the Son and Holy Ghost.

Meet Your Local Funeral Director

Editor's note: Oak Grove Cemetery works closely with area funeral directors to assist families in making final plans. We thought it would be helpful to introduce our readers to some of our colleagues, and will feature area funeral directors in the next several issues of this newsletter.

This issue features Michael A. Schneider of Blaschke Funeral Home, 401 West Ave. South and Blaschke Funeral Home - Nelson Chapel, 1007 Caledonia Street, both in La Crosse.

How long have you been a funeral director?

I have been a licensed funeral director since 1994. I started my apprenticeship in 1989, and worked for the John J. Walloch Funeral Home while attending college in Milwaukee. While in college, I was awarded the Model Funeral Director Award and the Edward Heidenrich Restorative Art Award. I have been employed at Blaschke Funeral Homes since 1995, and became a business partner in 1997.

What are some of the biggest changes you have seen in the field since you started?

I believe the funeral service industry has experienced an evolution of corporate entities from a "global economy" absorbing locally-owned and operated funeral homes and cemeteries.

Also, population trends have shifted from the rural areas to the more urban areas.

The funeral service industry has been influenced by the use of the Internet and DSL, and by economic trends, fads, and local customs for both traditional and non-traditional burials. Changes from attrition in families, neighbors, relatives, values, or church vs. non-church customs have certainly affected the burial rite.

One of the biggest changes in the last ten years is the difference in choices consumers have regarding pre-arrangement funding. The Wisconsin Funeral Directors Association has created "MasterTrust." Also, local bank trusts and use of insurance policies to pre-fund final expenses have increased greatly. These options have given the consumer more choices in how and where to best secure funds for their funeral arrangements.

What's your "philosophy" about how to help families get through the death of a loved one?

My philosophy is quite simple: We are given a gift — the gift of a grieving family's mother, father, grandmother, grandfather, son or daughter, neighbor or friend. We are given the highest compliment one human being can receive from another — the care of their loved one at a most sensitive time, from the time of death until the time of burial. What I do is treat the deceased and the entire grieving family as though they were my own family members. I use the values my faith has taught me to use — life is a gift, and we should treat it that way, especially at the time of death.

Do many people plan ahead, that is, work with you to set up their arrangements before they need your service?

Yes, many people plan for their funeral, just as we plan for a wedding, vacation, trip, college education, or any other important rite of passage. Our society is good at planning, and at the funeral home we do this on a daily basis. We assist families in preparing newspaper notices, documents of permanent record and all phases of planning for their own burial rites.

What's one thing you wish everyone would know about planning a funeral?

Planning a funeral following a death can be a highly complicated and difficult transition for families that do not have prior knowledge of the wishes of the deceased. Family dynamics, attitudes, values, and religious affiliations influence decisions. Should the choice be a complete church service or a funeral home chapel service; ground burial or cremation; cremation before or after the service; or a service at all?

With so many choices to make, planning ahead can be comforting and bring a sense of peace to spouses and other family members.

Too often choices are made by the grieving family that typically would not have been made by a person planning his or her own funeral. Pre-arrangement appointments offer the opportunity to discuss all considerations openly and freely, and document them for easy retrieval at the time of death. Today, people are living longer; population shifts mean that the kids are not in the hometown as often, and more people are outliving their resources. Proper pre-funding, with planning ahead, assures a family that monies will be used to carry out their wishes. These funds remain in an irrevocable account, exempt from seizure by any government agency or other entity, and are used strictly for final funeral expenses.

Annual lot owners meeting recap

Oak Grove Cemetery hosted its annual lot owner meeting on April 28. Executive Director Valerie Reinke presented information about the cemetery's finances. She also discussed Oak Grove's mission to provide a beautiful and serene final resting place and comprehensive services for clients in an environment of trust, compassion and respect. Another aspect of the mission is that the cemetery recognizes its importance as a historical resource, and is committed to enhancing public knowledge of that history. Looking to the future, Val discussed Oak Grove's transition to a Service Cemetery, that is, an organization that is involved in client, family and community outreach.

Both Louis Robinson and Salem Markos were reelected to the board. Read more about them below. The staff and board of trustees for Oak Grove sincerely thank the lot owners for their interest and support.

2004 Memorial Day Events

Oak Grove is always very busy over Memorial Day. The traditional parade ends at the cemetery and we see many visitors throughout the weekend.

Meet the Staff

Oak Grove's new accounting clerk

John Stuber

Oak Grove is pleased to announce the addition of John Stuber as accounting clerk. John has an extensive background in accounting. In his most recent role, John worked as an accountant for McGladrey Contract Business Services, providing accounting services to retail businesses.

He previously worked in various areas at Heileman/Stroh Brewery Company for 27 years.

In his new position, John will be responsible for general ledger maintenance at Oak Grove Cemetery. He will also process the cemetery's payroll, account receivables and account payables as well as maintain mailing lists, inventory and supplies.

John is a lifelong resident of La Crosse and a UW-La Crosse graduate. He enjoys fishing and golfing. He and his wife, Sarah, have one daughter, Rachel.
